

THREE MORE.

MARSHAL LLOYD AND HIS DEPUTIES CAPTURE

Three More People Who Had Liquor on Their Premises and Is After Others.

Yesterday afternoon after the GAZETTE had gone to press Marshal Lloyd and his deputies raided three more places, one on Shattuck avenue and two on Telegraph avenue.

Marshal Lloyd and Deputy Bone went to Mrs. Thompson's hotel and searched it, but only found a few bottles of beer which she said were for her own personal use.

Deputies Bone and Davis then went to Mrs. Silvershield's candy store on Telegraph avenue, and after searching the store and room behind it and finding nothing, went into a closet back of the dining room and found some liquor in a demijohn and some bottles of beer, which they confiscated and took to the Town Hall.

Mrs. A. Majner, who has a restaurant on the corner formerly occupied by Heagerty, was the next place visited and here the officers made quite a little haul, all of which was taken to the Town Hall.

After these seizures the officers, concluding that they had done a pretty good day's work, rested from their labors, but it is said that there are several other suspected places and among them several student club houses that they will descend upon very suddenly and at almost any hour.

Contrary to expectations there were no warrants issued today and none of the parties whose places were raided have been arrested. It is not expected that any persons will be arrested until after the Marshal has made his report to the Trustees this evening, and the Town Attorney informs the Board as to their rights in the premises and as to who should swear to the complaints.

In the meantime everything is quiet and nothing but temperance drinks can be obtained in the eastern end of town. This closing up of the East Berkeley saloons has not caused any extra trade to drift to the West End, so we are informed by the proprietors of the saloons there.

At Peralta Park.

The beautiful grounds surrounding the residence of Henry W. Taylor at Peralta Park were beautifully illuminated last evening with electric lights and Chinese lanterns and it truly resembled fairyland.

The occasion for all this splendor was a social given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. At about 7:30 o'clock the first of the guests began to arrive and from that time on until about 8:30 the cars arrived crowded with people, all of whom were dazzled with the splendor of the scene that was spread out before them.

When all arrived the programme of the evening, which consisted of songs, recitations and music, commenced and continued until a late hour, when refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served.

It was 11 o'clock when the last car left for East Berkeley and it was crowded with happy people who had spent a most enjoyable evening.

Hon. Joseph Manley, one of the strongest Republican political leaders, will soon visit California. He is credited with being at the head of the Reed boom for the Presidency.

Claus Spreckles and family will leave Southampton tomorrow on their way home to San Francisco.

Mrs. Ballington Booth of the Salvation Army left New York yesterday for the Pacific Coast.

More Time for Landing Passengers.

There has been more or less complaints for a long time in relation to the starting up of the local trains of the East Berkeley steam railroad. Time enough for the passengers to get off the trains at the different stations is not allowed by some of the conductors. Quite a number of cases have resulted in slight damages, which might have proved more serious. This, however, does not help the man in charge of the train.

Night before last two ladies residing in West Berkeley came over from San Francisco on the 10 o'clock train, transferring at Shellmound station. Before the ladies could get on the platform they were thrown down by the cars being in motion, and received several bruises. The wounds might have been more serious, and then there would have been a case for damages against the company.

The public should not be inconvenienced this way. More time should be allowed for passengers to land. The train should not be started up until the conductor or brakeman sees that every passenger getting out is away from the car.

University Notes.

The Student Congress held a public debate Wednesday evening in Stiles Hall on the silver question, the resolution favoring free and unlimited coinage at 16 to 1. Leslie C. Mott, '98, J. D. Hatch, '97, and Tracy R. Kelly, '96, spoke for the affirmative, and Charles A. Son, H. C. Symonds and J. Arthur Elston for the negative. After these set speeches the question was thrown open to the entire Congress, and a number of four-minute speeches were made. Professor C. M. Gayley presided during the debate, and Professor William Carey Jones, Dr. L. T. Hengstler and Mr. Sutton acted as judges, who decided that the weight of argument rested with the negative, but that the affirmative excelled in delivery, style and diction. This was the first public debate this term preliminary to the intercollegiate debate to be held in San Francisco in April next.

The Philosophical Union will meet tonight in Professor Howison's lecture room, North Hall. The topic for discussion will be "The Problem of Philosophy as Determined From the Point of View of Mathematics." This subject is covered by chapter 1 of a work on "Comte, Mill and Spencer" by Professor John Watson of Queen's University, Kingston, Canada, who will lecture before the union on his book next May in Berkeley.

President H. H. Hirst has called a meeting of the athletic association for next Monday afternoon, at which time nominations will be made for the presidency of the Western Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The report is out that the football team of the University of Minnesota will come to this Coast Christmas, and that several games have already been arranged.

Alexander Baldwin, '96 and Power Hutchins, '96, have been appointed a committee to make arrangements for the theater party to be given in San Francisco on the evening of the intercollegiate football game, which comes, as usual, on Thanksgiving day.

The committee appointed to take charge of cases of library thieving is Friend, Flaherty, Hirst, McCulloch and Dam, all seniors.

Court University Circle A. O. F. will give a social hop at Pythian Hall tomorrow evening. The admission including gentleman and lady will be 25 cents. A good time is guaranteed those who attend.

Ramos & Renas understand the value of printers' ink, and in order that the public may know what they have got to sell, they have a mammoth advertisement on the second page that our subscribers should not fail to read.

IS DECLARED VOID.

THE SUPREME COURT DRILLS A HOLE IN THE

Fee Bill in the County Government Act—Communications from the People.

The Fee Bill Is Void.

The Supreme Court knocked the whole Fee Bill section out of the County Government Act yesterday, and used language that implies the unconstitutionality of the entire measure, because if unconstitutional when applied to one county it must be unconstitutional when applied to the others. The case on appeal was the application of the executors of John W. Mitchell's estate for a writ of mandate to compel the County Clerk of Stanislaus to accept $25 in full for the return of the appraisal of the estate. The Clerk refused to accept the money, claiming $1358 under the Fee Bill, which allows $10 fee for the first $5000 and $1 for each succeeding $1,000. The estate is appraised at $1,364,367 65. In directing the issue of the writ the court says:

"In thus fixing a fee for the official services of the Clerk the provision in question violates Section 4, Article XI, which commands the Legislature to establish 'a system of county governments which shall be uniform throughout the State,' and also violates Section 11, Article 1, requiring that 'All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation,' since there is no perceptible or conceivable reason why the fee or tax in question should be exacted in any one county rather than in any other. It is also repugnant to Subdivision 33 of Section 25, Article IV, forbidding local or special laws 'in all cases where a general law can be made applicable.' For surely the provision of Section 195 of the County Government Act in question can be made general and uniformly applicable to all counties in the State, laying aside, as we may for the purpose in hand, all consideration relating to the necessity or policy of such a general law.

"The only ground upon which the provision in question is claimed to be a general law is that it operates uniformly upon a class of counties authorized by the Constitution itself. But the Constitution, Section 5, Article XI, authorizes a classification of counties only for the purpose of regulating the compensation of county officers, according to duties, which purpose is not prompted or affected in any degree by the provision in question x x x The obvious reason for classifying counties for the purpose of regulating the compensation of officers, according to service, is, that much more official service is required in some counties than in others, the purpose of the classification being to effect equality of compensation for like services of county officers throughout the State, whereas the effect of the law in question is diversity and inequality of official fees for like services without affecting the compensation of officers in any way."

Anent the Liquor Seizures.

Editor GAZETTE: Some three months ago I was taken ill and was confined to my bed for several weeks. During that time I had use for liquors for medicinal purposes, and have used them since. During all this time I have had nothing to do with the store which has been run by my son, I going to the city every morning and returning in the evening.

Last evening at 6:30 upon my return I learned that Mr. Bone and Mr. Davis had called at my place and exhibited a search warrant directed to me to my son. He informed them that I was in the city. They did not wait for my return to serve the warrant upon me, but proceeded to search the store and the room behind it. Not finding anything there they proceeded to my residence apartments. They were informed that those were my private apartments, and Mr. Davis was inclined to believe that they were sacred, at least until I was present. Mr. Bone, however, thought that nothing was sacred, and proceeded to search my dining room; finding nothing there he went to my china closet, and there found some beer and liquor that I have for my own use and for medicinal purposes, and carried them away, giving my son a receipt for them.

I appeal to you, Mr. Editor, and to the public to know whether an officer has a right, in my absence, to enter my private living apartments and help himself to anything he may find there, leaving a hastily scribbled receipt in lead pencil for what he says he took. Of course, not being present, I cannot say what he took. I desire to state further that the statement in the Advocate that a barrel of whisky was taken from my place is a downright lie, and that the editor of that paper knew it when she allowed it to be published in her paper.

Respectfully,
MRS. M. SILVERSHIELD.

Oakland's Muddle.

The Council passed an ordinance last evening making the tax levy $1, but Mayor Davis says positively that he will veto this ordinance as well as the other because the Council took 5 cents off of the street light fund and added 5 cents to the levy for the school fund.

This change in the funds was done by the non partisans in revenge for the defeat of the other ordinance and to place the Mayor in the position of fighting the schools.

During the meeting Councilman Heitmann presented a letter from the Mayor, saying he would veto any ordinance save the one that Mr. Heitmann introduced.

The Mayor is trying to coerce this body," said Councilman Mott.

"I move that Mr. Heitmann's ordinance be amended by taking 5 cents from the street light levy and adding it to the schools," said Mr. Dow. The motion went through by a vote of 7 to 4, despite the Mayor's assertion that he would veto it.

President Evans of the Board of Education advised the reduction of the Mayor's salary rather than the salaries of the school teachers and said that on the amount allowed in the Heitmann ordinance the schools could not be kept open all the year.

Good Government Club.

Now is the time for the Good Government Club to put in a public appearance and make a record in favor of the High School proposition. The club should show its good intention anyway. Organized for the purpose of developing the best interests of the town it seems to have gone asleep by the wayside.

The bond question now under discussion by the people should have the opinion of all that have such a thing to express. It may be like South Berkeley, however, and have no mind of its own.

DENIES EVERYTHING.

DURRANT DENIES ALL TESTIMONY GIVEN AGAINST HIM.

Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt to be Married at High Noon on Tuesday, November 5th.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Theodore Durrant put in his third day on the witness stand today, and he has so far proven to be a phenomenal witness, and is undoubtedly standing the strain far better than the District Attorney. He is alert and meets the District Attorney's vigorous attacks with deliberate answers. When asked whether he did not inform the press reporters on the night of his arrest, that he arrived at the Emmanuel Church at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of April 3d, he denied ever telling the reporters that, although it appears in their notes that he did. In his direct examination he testified that he arrived at the church at 5 o'clock. This lapse of time means a great deal for between the hour of 4:30 and 5 o'clock it is thought that the murder was committed.

The time of his meeting with King was again gone over and Durrant denied one or two minor points in King's testimony. He further denied that he had copied his notes from any other book on Cheyney's lecture, and he also denied that he asked Graham for the use of his notes. He admitted, however, that Graham spoke to him, in reference to his notes and offered to furnish them to him but that he declined. The writing on the newspaper wrapper that contained the rings of Blanche Lamont was shown him and he denied that the address written thereon was in his handwriting. The records of the Christian Endeavor Society, which he claims to have written up, were then shown him and he identified it as his handwriting, and the book was offered in evidence without objection. The evidence that he furnished his attorneys with a letter to be opened in case he was convicted and to be destroyed if he was acquitted, is accumulating and it is thought that at the proper time the District Attorney will prove its existence.

The Wedding Day Fixed.

New York, Oct. 11.—It is now announced that the wedding of the Duke of Marlborough to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, will take place on Tuesday November 5th, at high noon in the church of St. Thomas.

North Berkeley Club.

What has become of the North Berkeley Club? An association was formed there some twelve months ago, and for awhile it was in a flourishing condition. A meeting of its members should be called, and the Club be placed again in active service. It would be the means of accomplishing a great deal of good, not only for that section of the town, but would have a considerable influence in assisting proper legislation for the whole of Berkeley. There is a plenty of good, active talent at the North End, and it should not be hidden under a bushel basket.

Lieutenant General Schofield.

The decision of Judge Bradley of the United States Supreme Court in relation to the action taken by Lieutenant General Schofield, in placing Major Ames under arrest, has put a blot on the fair escutcheon of the late commander-in-chief of the United States army that will go down with the history of his life. As the late Admiral Farragut once said to the writer, some years before the late rebellion, "that he might serve his government nearly his whole life with honor to it and himself, and at the end make some error in judgment that would forever blast his whole history."

It may not be so bad as that in this case but the words of the decision will certainly have a pernicious effect in history.

Narrow Gauge Road.

This morning about nine o'clock as the narrow gauge engine was backing and filling on the track near University avenue it threw a passenger car off the track, and it was a difficult job to get it back again. The great wonder is that the train stays on the track at all. It certainly is in a very bad condition, and the coming wet season will not improve it.

After some serious accident has happened something may be done to put the road in better shape.

Some Fires.

About midnight fires were observed at several places on the hill to the east of Berkeley, caused by the burning of grass and brush.

Between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning whistles blew and bells rang giving the alarm for a fire on Christiania tract, west of Peralta Park. Many enquiries were made of people living and coming from that direction of the town but nothing was learned except it was thought that the blaze was caused by the burning of brush.

TOWN OFFICIAL PAPER.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1895.

ARREST OF SALOONMEN.

Never before in the history of the town has there been as much excitement in all quarters as there was yesterday after it had become known that Marshal Lloyd had made a raid upon those persons in East Berkeley who have been supposed to sell liquor in their back rooms, and all day long knots of men stood upon the corners talking about it. In the evening, after the majority of people had learned of the raid through the columns of the GAZETTE, hundreds of them flocked to Shattuck avenue to learn for themselves the exact status of things and to find out under what law the raid and seizures were made, and to the listener the arguments pro and con were very interesting.

This raid is of the greatest importance to the people of Berkeley for it means that the marshal intends to enforce all ordinances, no matter who they hurt, and in this he will have the backing of all good citizens. We are glad that the issue has now come, for the matter of the mile limit will now be settled in the courts of highest jurisdiction. It has long been held that the law was unconstitutional, inasmuch as it has only been operative in Berkeley and is therefore special legislation, inasmuch as the Law college of the University and the Medical department of the University are located in San Francisco and are surrounded with licensed saloons. If the law is good in Berkeley it should be good in San Francisco.

Whether the above is the opinion of competent attorneys we know not, but it is the opinion that has been expressed by a large number of people in Berkeley, but we cannot see that it has any bearing upon the raid of yesterday.

The Board of Trustees of the town of Berkeley have passed an ordinance formed by its attorney, making it a misdemeanor to sell, give away, or store liquors in any public place or building any liquors, spiritous or malt, or wines unless such person or persons has first obtained a license from the town to so sell, give away or store such liquors, beer or wine.

The ordinance was published on the 13th of September and was passed on the 27th of September, in order that all persons might know its provisions. Immediately upon its passage President Richards announced that he intended to see that the ordinance was strictly enforced, and he said it in no uncertain way. That portion of it referring to the storing of liquors was enforced yesterday, and we are glad of it. If we have laws made they should be enforced, and if then it is found that they are no good, have them wiped off the statute books as soon as possible. There is no use in having this squabble over liquor saloons and licenses and other things pertaining to it every few months. There should be a proper law, one that is fair alike to the town and to the saloon; not an oppressive law, enacted, to stand for all time; and then every provision in it should be enforced, and every citizen in the town who believes in the law and in upholding the law should assist the officers in seeing that the ordinances are enforced.

The present ordinance is a very strong one and it looks impregnable, yet it may have its weak points. In either case the public will soon learn, for the persons arrested have already employed the best of legal talent and the matter will be taken to the courts, where it should be speedily pushed by the town attorney and the attorneys for the defense, as it is a matter of the utmost importance to the good and welfare of the town of Berkeley and the people who reside within its limits.

The GAZETTE has no use for temperance fanatics nor for saloon fanatics but it has use and respect for the laws of the State and of the town and will always be found ready and willing to assist in the enforcement of the laws. It will not, however, lend its columns to the hounding down of a man because he is in the liquor business, for just so long as the government recognizes the saloon business as legitimate by licensing it, just so long shall we believe that it is just as respectable as some other businesses that are considered respectable, and whose owners are welcomed into society and into the church, but who are rotten to the core, and more to be feared than any saloon keeper in the land.

We believe that the GAZETTE expresses the idea of the whole community, with the exception of a few people who have become cranks upon the subject of saloons and possibly one or two who have been trying to use the cry of temperance for a number of years for the purpose of gain, and also for the purpose of getting into society.

We do not believe that the new ordinance has any reference to invading the private dining room or china closet of a person, and if the communication in another column is true we think that Special Officer Bone, in his zeal for evidence, exceeded his authority.

It is said that the first point of attack to be made by the attorneys for the saloonmen will be upon the offices of Justice of the Peace, which they will try to prove are null and void, consequently Justice James had no right to issue search warrants. The next attack will be made directly upon the charter, and it is said that it will fail. A well known attorney of Berkeley has been working upon the breaking of the charter for several months and considerable money has been subscribed to assist in the matter. It was not intended to spring the matter just yet, but the raid yesterday and the arrests today will precipitate matters.

State and County Taxes.

County Auditor Whidden has completed the recapitulation of the tax roll of the county so far as the cities and incorporated towns are concerned. The grand total of State and county taxes from these sources will be $781,325.39. These figures are based upon the corrected assessment roll of the Board of Equalization. In the event that Judge Ellsworth's decision in the Dalton case is sustained by the Supreme Court there will be an increase of about $50,000 in the total for the county. The localities included in this recapitulation are San Leandro, Hayward, Pleasanton, Livermore, Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

Berkeley Council No. 72. Order of Chosen Friends will hold a social on Friday evening, October 18, 1895, at Taylor's Hall. It will be by invitation. The name given it is a "Toast Social," by that is meant that every gentleman will be expected to answer to some toast given.

Who Can Answer This Conundrum?

In the memoirs of Baron Stockmar is a note by his son, the editor of the work, in these words:

"There were not wanting instances of shamelessness against which he had to defend himself. A rich Englishman, an author and member of parliament, called upon him one day and promised to give him £10,000 if he would further his petition to the queen for a peerage. Stockmar replied: 'I will now go into the next room in order to give you time. If upon my return I still find you here I shall have you turned out by the servants.'"

Very creditable, of course, to Stockmar, considering his circumstances and position. The incident occurred in the early forties apparently, and there were not many rich Englishmen at that period who were both "authors and members of parliament." But I am not aware that anybody has as yet identified the would-be corrupter of the immaculate baron. Who could he have been? And did he get his peerage in the end?—London World.

A Kentucky War Story.

An old Confederate soldier said recently: "I remember an occasion where a colored man, a body servant to General Forrest, saved his life. The general had broken two swords, and the servant rushed forward and handed him another to defend himself with." This occurred at Sacramento, a little village in McLean county, and the combat was with John Williams, the grandfather of John McIntire, the artist, who lived in Owensboro for some time. Mr. Williams was a gallant Federal soldier, who had served in the Mexican war and made a good fight. He fought so well that General Forrest paroled him and accompanied him to his home in the neighborhood and asked his wife to bind up his wound and care for him, saying that so brave a man deserved the best of care and attention."—Owensboro (Ky.) Little Johnny Horner
Was passing the corner.
He was looking very sad.
He had his photo taken
And immediately was glad.

It Is Said

That all but one or two of the Southern Pacific trains slow down now according to law at the University avenue crossing.

That all that is now needed in the Town Hall after the upper portion is finished is individual desks for the members of the Board. It would add more dignity to the members and it would look more business like.

That there are several large buildings at West Berkeley that would make the finest kind of vinegar and pickle factories and that the owners will not be troubled here as they are in Oakland. Come to West Berkeley by all means.

That President Richards of the Board of Trustees announced immediately after the new ordinance was passed at the last meeting that it would be strictly enforced by both himself and the Marshal.

That the Marshal told the Board to give him authority and he would soon close all the illicit places in Berkeley and he is keeping his word.

That most all of the West Berkeley saloon men have got their applications in the hands of the Town Clerk for a license under the new ordinance, and that probably all of them will be in before the Board meets tomorrow evening.

That a prominent attorney must expect a crash, for he is deciding a great deal of property over to his wife.

That when the editress of the Advocate tried to interview Deputy Marshal Kerns yesterday she got but very little satisfaction.

That an Oakland gentleman is having a new residence erected on Addison street, next to the nursery.

That Supervisor Johnston will succeed himself as Supervisor for the East Berkeley district at the next election.

That the case of Mrs. Belnet was published several days ago in the GAZETTE and it now appears as news in other papers.

That Charley Spear has got a view to suit each end of the town on the bond question, if the Advocate is to be believed. It may be Mr. Spear's private opinion that $150,000 is the proper amount of bonds and in that we agree with him, but he well knows that the expression of over two hundred people in West Berkeley was for $75,000 worth of bonds and as it takes a two-thirds vote those votes alone count double.

That the GAZETTE was eagerly sought after last evening, and a large number of copies were sold to people who are not regular customers.

That the GAZETTE was served to its subscribers all over Berkeley last evening, giving the news of the raid of Marshal Lloyd and his deputies, an hour before the Advocate left its press room. The GAZETTE is always ahead and never behind.

That Jacob Schreiber, the gas machine man, is recovering from his rheumatic attack, and will be able to attend to his business again about the first of the week.

That the GAZETTE comes nearer voicing the sentiments of the people of West Berkeley than any one man does, and that it also voices the sentiment of the people of East Berkeley to a far greater extent than does the Advocate, which does not even voice the sentiment of its owners let alone its editress.

That it would take a microscope to find the amount of taxes that are paid by the editress of the Advocate. Why she is not even liable for a poll tax.
